

Candidate for Vice-Chair/Chair-Elect: Andrew Pulau Evans

Evans Statement:

Are those fish on my shirt? Yeah, I am a big fan of the FISH! Philosophy.

Be there: GD-SIS and its committees have provided leadership in many areas of law librarianship especially with access to government information. Whenever the public's right to know is threatened, we are there!

Play: Work is fun. Our programs and professional development opportunities are already some of the best. Some of my best professional connections were made through our events. Why do some of our meetings start at 7am? We just want to have an early start on having all that fun.

Make Their Day: My government document colleagues and I have benefited from active participation in the GD-SIS section. We acquire skills, develop talents, and have access to a large network of colleagues through active participation in this Section.

Choose Your Attitude: I graciously accept the nomination to serve as GD-SIS vice-chair/chair-elect. I would welcome the opportunity to build on the strong foundation already laid, to increase opportunities for professional development, to encourage new proposals and ideas, and to face new challenges. I hope to continue fishing for government information. So please, vote for the guy with the FISH! shirt.
